

DEATH OF BERRY DUE TO ACCIDENT

This the Verdict of Coroner's Jury in Case of Negro Killed With Stolen Gun.

GRAYS TO GIVE DANCES

Petersburg Company Arranging for Several Entertainments. Deaths of Young Ladies.

[Special to The Times-Dispatch.]
PETERSBURG, Va., November 1.—When Cornelius Berry, a young negro from Baltimore, was fatally wounded on Bollingbrook Street last Tuesday morning by the discharge of a shot-gun which he had stolen, the only eye-witnesses, two small white boys, to whom he was talking at the time, testified that the gun was discharged accidentally, when Berry let its stock rest on the ground, but that the story circulated to the effect that the negro had been shot by some unknown person. Chief of Police Ragland questioned the boys closely, and otherwise investigated the case, but found no evidence that the shooting was not accidental. The wounded man died Wednesday morning at the Petersburg Hospital, and this afternoon Acting Coroner Nowson held an inquest at the jail, the jury bringing in a verdict that Cornelius Berry died from gunshot wounds, accidentally inflicted by himself. Captain Ragland ascertained in correspondence with the man's mother in Baltimore that his correct name was Berry, not Perry, as at first given.

Chief of Police Ragland's report for the past month shows a total of 174 arrests.

DO EVANGELISTIC WORK.

Dr. Fleming To Take Up the Work Requested by Presbytery.

[Special to The Times-Dispatch.]
LYNCHBURG, Va., November 1.—Rev. Dr. Robert H. Fleming, whose resignation was accepted at a recent meeting of the Montgomery Presbytery, at Charleston, W. Va., which terminated a successful pastorate of twenty years at the Westminster Presbyterian Church, has decided to accept the work of general evangelist for the Virginia Synod, as it was offered him recently by the synod at its session at Charleston.

Indeed, Dr. Fleming entered upon the discharge of his new duties this morning, but he will hardly be taken out of the city by them before the coming of winter.

"Wise Talks By The Office Boy"

I was reading that "while marriages may be made in heaven, most engagements are made in the back parlor, with the light turned down so low that a fellow doesn't really get a square look at what he's taking." It isn't that way in our store; there's plenty of light in every corner, and you can always see just what you are getting. Honestly, I believe things look better to you when you get them home than when you are buying. This certainly is good weather for overcoats; we never sold so many overcoats and never had so many overcoats to sell. Last week we sold many $15 overcoats, and if that isn't easy money for a fine overcoat you can have mine for nothing. Mail us your order, and we'll send one on approval; if not the best value you ever saw, fire it back, at our expense.

WILLIE,

It is understood that Dr. Fleming is to give three-fourths of his time to evangelizing in the bounds of the Montgomery Presbytery, and that the remaining one-fourth of the year will be spent in different portions of the bounds of the synod where it may be most needed.

GIVE BEST POSSIBLE DEFENSE.

Mr. Bird Arrives and Will Provide Counsel for Daughter.

[Special to The Times-Dispatch.]
NEWPORT NEWS, Va., November 1.—Robert Bird and his son, father and brother of Mrs. Nannie B. Baker, have arrived here from their home in Wesar, N. C., after a troublesome trip. On the way up young Bird was robbed of a new gold watch and chain.

Mr. Bird proposes to give his daughter, who is charged with murdering her newborn infant, the best defense legal talent can give. He says that his wife, who is aged and feeble, is ill as the result of the news contained in the telegram which brought him to this city.

Mrs. Baker is still ignorant of the fact that she is charged with murder. The officer who guards the woman's room keeps himself well out of sight, as the physicians fear to let the woman know her real situation. In a few days, however, the matter will be well enough to leave her bed, then she will be removed to the jail.

[Special to The Times-Dispatch.]

WEST POINT, Va., November 1.—There was a ripple of excitement in town among some people this week, caused by a colored preacher appearing on the streets declaring himself as sent by God to warn the people that something "was a-gwine to happen to West Point on Wednesday." Wednesday closed without any unusual happening, and the preacher disappeared.

THE ICE MEN ADJOURN AFTER A JOLLY SESSION

[Special to The Times-Dispatch.]

NORFOLK, Va., November 1.—After another day of fun, the members of the National Ice Producers' Association closed their stay here to-night. They have had a splendid time, and the query of "How would you like to be the ice man?" has assumed a local phase of more than usual vitality. Many of the members of the convention after a sight-seeing trip to-day, left for their homes to-night. The others will leave to-morrow.

Central Convention.

[Special to The Times-Dispatch.]

CHATHAM, Va., November 1.—The annual meeting of the Central Convention of the Woman's Auxiliary of the interest of Sunday-schools and the Woman's Auxiliary, was one of the most largely attended and interesting so far held. The addresses on both subjects were very instructive and much enjoyed by the large congregation. Thursday morning devotional exercises will be held at the Chatham Episcopal Institute from 8:30 to 10:30. In the evening, Messrs. Bryan, Stringfellow and Burwell will be the speakers.

BUYERS FAIL TO GET WHAT THEY EXPECT

Complaints Lodged Against Men Who Conducted Sale of Alleged Unclaimed Packages.

CONDUCTOR ADMITS STEALING

Fined About Three Times as Much as He Took of Company's Money.

[Special to The Times-Dispatch.]
NORFOLK, Va., November 1.—Claiming that they had been victimized at a fake auction sale, J. A. Anderson and G. O. Brandy appeared in the Police Court to-day as complainants against William Powell and William Powley, who gave their occupations as circus men. The cases were dismissed at the request of the plaintiffs, who stated that they had received satisfaction; but fresh warrants were sworn out against the two Williams by D. I. Marmont, who states that he is among the list of those also stung.

From evidence produced to-day it appears that the defendants in the case conducted an auction sale yesterday of goods claimed to have been shipped over the Erie Railroad and to have remained unclaimed by consignees until confiscated by the railroad company. The sale went with a rush, but most of the buyers were sadly jarred when they opened the closed boxes containing their purchases. One man, who had purchased a boxed-up Russell carpet and discovered, after unrolling that he was the possessor of a consignment of clothespins, is still looking for revenge. Others have suffered, and they are clamoring for the return of their cash.

The second bunch of warrants will be tried to-morrow.

Conductor Pleads Guilty.

B. Martin, a conductor of the Norfolk and Portsmouth Traction Company, has entered a plea of guilty before Norfolk County Justice Carmine, on the charge of stealing $3.25 from the railway company, and has been fined $10 and costs. The fine was paid. Martin was arrested by one of the special detectives who have been placed on the trail of alleged defaulting conductors by the Traction Company.

With to-night's performance, "Polychromas," at the Hippodrome, made its last appearance here. The spectacle has been running since early June, and has scored a tremendous success. Many of the players will leave to-morrow for their homes.

While confirming the report that he has resigned from the management of the Monticello Hotel, Charles H. Harrington, who will retain the management of the Pine Beach and Ocean View hostilities, Mr. Harrington's other business required him to give up the city hotel work, but he will be in charge of the seashore resorts.

PARTIAL SUSPENSION OF WORK.

South and Western to Lay Off Large Part of Force.

[Special to The Times-Dispatch.]
BRISTOL, Va., November 1.—Financial conditions in New York have resulted in the partial suspension of work on the construction of the South and Western Railroad, now being built from the Virginia coal fields across Southwest Virginia, East Tennessee and the Carolinas to a point on the Atlantic coast. It is said that probably more than 4,000 men will be laid off for the present. It is officially announced from the offices of the company that the suspension will not necessarily delay the time when the road as a whole will be completed as the work is to be hurried forward by all tunnels and deep cuts. It is stated that a further reason for suspending light work is that it would be damaged by winter weather.

COL. CABELL ADDRESSES NEWPORT NEWS VOTERS

[Special to The Times-Dispatch.]

NEWPORT NEWS, Va., November 1.—Colonel George C. Cabell, of Norfolk, addressed a meeting of Democratic voters at the City Hall to-night in the interest of the candidacy of Hon. W. E. Barrett, the Democratic nominee to succeed himself in the House of Delegates. This was the first meeting of the campaign before the election, which will be held next Tuesday. To-morrow night the second and last meeting will be held in East End, with Hon. Samuel Kelley, of Richmond, as the orator.

BRISTOL TO CELEBRATE THE CLOSING OF SALOONS

[Special to The Times-Dispatch.]

W. West, of Tennessee and Virginia, respectively, are to be here.

LOUISIANA'S GOVERNOR IS SLIGHTED AT EXPOSITION

[Special to The Times-Dispatch.]

NORFOLK, Va., November 1.—Claiming that he was ignored at the Jamestown Exposition by officials of the Louisiana Exposition, Governor Blanche of Louisiana, who, with the exception of one day, has been sojourning at the Louisiana Exposition Building since last Monday morning, left to-night in disgust.

No exposition official took any notice of his arrival, although he introduced himself the best friend that the exposition had in the far South, and his arrival had been announced in the public press.

Thinking it impossible that his arrival could be known to the exposition officials, the Governor, in company with Dr. W. C. Stubbs, executive commissioner from Louisiana to Jamestown, called on Hon. Harry St. George Tucker, president of the exposition, and Hon. Alva H. Martin, director-general, the Governor being introduced by Dr. Stubbs. The Governor then returned to the Louisiana Building, thinking certainly that his visit would be returned, but was still treated as an unknown quantity, no official or any one else of importance going near him.

Yesterday the Governor spent in New York to-day he was again in the Louisiana State Building, but no one yet called on him. To-night he turned his back on the Jamestown Exposition.

THE PASSING OF SALOONS WILL NOT AFFECT REVENUES

[Special to The Times-Dispatch.]

BRISTOL, Va., November 1.—Collector E. E. Butler, of the internal revenue office here, states that the passing of saloons in East Tennessee is not going to have any serious effect on the revenues. He collected more during October than for any previous month. He says that the wholesale whiskey men who are coming to Chattanooga from Atlanta as the result of Georgia's dropping into the dry column is calculated to add materially to the receipts of this revenue district. He understands that at least six big whiskey dealers will go from Atlanta to Chattanooga.

NORFOLK COUNTY'S DAY GREAT SUCCESS

Local Celebration Draws Big Crowd and Is Greatly Enjoyed by All.

COUNCIL OF JEWISH WOMEN

[Special to The Times-Dispatch.]

JAMESTOWN EXPOSITION GROUNDS, Va., November 1.—With a clear morning and a pleasant, though cloudy afternoon, Norfolk County Day at the Jamestown Exposition proved a success in every sense of the word. Everything moved through without a hitch, and there was an unusually large attendance.

Beginning the day, there was a review of the troops on Lee Parade Grounds, witnessed by Dir. Gen. General Alva H. Martin, President Harry St. George Tucker and others, which was followed by exercises at the Auditorium. Here a speech was made by President Tucker, Admiral Harrington and other well-known orators. Governor Swanson and Captain R. C. Marshall were to have been present, but were prevented from attending by urgent business. Judge Portlock presided over the exercises.

After these, there was a tilting tournament in the afternoon and an awarding of prizes at night. In addition, there were two concerts each by Phinney's Band and the Mexican National Band. An address was made during the evening by Attorney T. J. Wool.

Mexican Band's Last Concert.

Closing its engagement with the Exposition Company, the Mexican National Band played its last concert to-night. During its stay in Norfolk the musical organization has made itself popular through its voluntary concerts in the city parks and its willingness to assist in civic celebrations on all occasions.

Jewish Women's Council.

The program for the four days' session of the National Council of Jewish Women, to be held here beginning November 1th, has been arranged, and the convention promises to be a most interesting one. Headquarters for the visiting delegates, who are expected from fifty-five cities, have been arranged at various hotels, and the conventions will be held in the Auditorium at the exposition, the Fairfax Hotel and the Jewish Temple. Several thousand delegates are expected to be present.

Because Tuesday, November 5th, is election day, Princess Anne County Day, which was scheduled for celebration at the Jamestown Exposition for that day, has been postponed. November 15th has been selected as the day for this event. The county is manifesting wide interest and enthusiasm, and every household, it is anticipated, will be deserted on that day.

Disinterested Testimony.

Editor of The Times-Dispatch:

It is sometimes said that opinions as to the results of prohibition are largely influenced by conviction on the abstract question. It is a gratifying fact to many that the disinterested testimony of non-partisan witnesses in the matter is so manifestly in favor of the prohibition. I cite a single instance here as illustrative of the proposition. A well known citizen of Richmond said this morning a few days ago: "As you perhaps know, I have never voted a dry ticket nor been identified with any temperance effort, and while not a drinking man, in the ordinary accepta-
